The Rare & Special Plant Fair was established in 2001 with the assistance of Bord Bia, to ensure that the gardening public has the opportunity to purchase rare, unusual and special plants at reasonable prices, and to ensure that nurseries and breeders of these plants in Ireland have an opportunity to present them for sale. At the same time, the Fair aims to provide an opportunity for visitors to explore a private garden that they might not otherwise visit.

This year, Huntington Castle & Gardens will be hosting the Rare & Special Plant Fair as they celebrate 21 years!

Described as the hidden gem of Ireland, Huntington has been home to the Durdin Robertson Family since 1625. Located on the Carlow-Wexford border along the River Derry, Huntington is a lovely day out for the family.
